

HVAC Installer Apprentice

Are you interested in a successful career in a well-paid and stable industry? At Preferred AC & Mechanical we are currently hiring full-time entry-level HVAC trainees. As an HVAC Installer Apprentice, you will be in the field with Senior HVAC technicians installing a variety of heating and cooling systems. As you assist them, they will mentor and train you on everything from: How to talk with customers to how to properly place and test new equipment. In addition to field experience, you will receive one-on-one and in-house group training.

If YOU....

- Have a positive outlook on learning an in-demand industry
- Have great communication skills
- Are service-oriented and dependable
- Have great work ethic
- Take pride in your work
- Are honest and respectful of others and their property

If this describes YOU, then this might just be perfect opportunity!
